INTRODUCTION

Understanding Chinese Astrology and Ben Ming Nian (your Chinese Astrological sign)

Chinese Astrology is a system that pairs each year with an Animal's physical and symbolic attributes. This repeats every 12 years therefore you will encounter your Ben Ming Nian, or your birth year Animal sign every 12 years. The beginning of each year is termed "The Beginning of Spring" or Li Chun 立春 and it typically commences on the 4th or 5th February each year in the modern (Gregorian) calendar 阳历.

The Year of The Water Rabbit 2023 falls on the 4 February 2023 1042hrs which is the official start of the Water Rabbit 2023. The year does not begin on the Lunar New Year Day which is the 22 February 2022. It is a common misconception to match both events together as they are 2 separate dates. Therefore, newborn babies of 2023 fall under the Rabbit astrological sign if they are born on 4 February 2023 1042hrs.

Does an "Astrology Year" denote an "Unlucky Year"?

A lot of Chinese people are also strongly superstitious of their Ben Ming Nian as it may be a year beset with ill luck due to "offending" the Fortune God Tai Sui. They believe that wealth fluctuations, health setbacks, marriage woes and other related ailments may dog them during the year of their Animal sign. But many people also believe that it depends on the individual and that Ben Ming Nian is simply symbolic to life changes that may take place.

How to maximise the potential for a smooth year

As a general rule, one can enhance one's luck and combat any potential bad energy by taking precautionary measures especially during important life matters such as marriage, moving house, travel, starting business. Below are more helpful guidelines on how to further neutralise bad luck.

- Practise kindness. Help those around you more and be involved in charity work
- Celebrate milestone events enthusiastically - marriages, birthdays, anniversaries and achievements
- Do your due diligence, minimise risk and always strategise exhaustively when choosing anything important
- Try to go with the flow and be more open to different ways of thought
- Self-help and self-improvement pursuits will serve you well this year
- Avoid negative thoughts and hateful speech

- Keep away from those who harbour toxic personalities, regardless of how close they are to you
- Lift yourself emotionally and keep positive. Smile more

As the famous Star Wars movie character Yoda famously said, "Fear Leads to Anger. Anger Leads to Hate. Hate Leads to Suffering", be mindful of your heart feelings, your thought process and the words that you speak. These are powerfully influential to your makeup as a person and keeping things loving and positive will do wonders in empowering you and increasing your potential for success and achievements.

A very useful tip is to adopt the Chinese proverb 家和万事兴 Jia He Wan Shi Xing. Meaning "if the family lives in harmony all affairs will prosper".

Foster fantastic relations with your family this year, pay extra attention to them and lavish them with your time. Family harmony greatly improves your Career and Wealth luck. Be also a more thoughtful boss or co-worker and participate in active co-creation to enhance your luck further.

INTRODUCTION

2023 will be a sparkling year full of great advancement especially in matters of your professional life, where not only will you see great prospects ahead for career development such as promotions and peer recognition, but also improved positioning in your social hierarchy – things are looking up and up for the ambitious Rat. These are literally “leaps and bounds” times ahead for you in terms of cash generation, Rat, as well as influence and not to mention great Love luck too. So work hard, stay committed to your journey ahead be it professional and personal and enjoy a fantastic 2023.

CAREER

Rat, you are set to receive significant support from major wealth-activating stars this year namely Lu Xun 福德 Fortune Virtue Star, Tian De 天德 Heavenly Virtue Star, Ba Zuo 八座 Eight Seals Star, Hong Luan 红鸾 Red Phoenix Star and Tao Hua 桃花 Peach Blossom Star. To summarise, it is a great time for your career where you will find yourself enjoying great luck prospects throughout the year and will find plenty of support and ease in whatever endeavours you wish to venture into. Success is in the cards for you, Rat, so it is a good year to maximise your potential and finally kickstart that passion projects that you have been incubating for far too long.

For a deeper understanding of each star, do read the below.

- Lu Xun 福德 Fortune Virtue Star sees a smoothing over of any potential “rocky” obstacles – you will notice more and more that any unfortunate situation will naturally correct itself without much effort. Work productivity will be great too. You may also see Nobleman Luck come your way so if you chance upon any influential people of high positions that express interest in your work, grab that opportunity, Rat.
- Tian De 天德 Heavenly Virtue Star 天德 further neutralises any bad luck and setbacks, easing the way for a peaceful period for you to work hard without major hindrances causing trouble. Friends and colleagues will be dependable pillars of support for you at this time, so reach out to them whenever you need any extra boost to your career.

- Ba Zuo 八座 Eight Seals Star enhances Mentor Luck this year; much like Nobleman Luck, people of power and influence will guide you to strengthen your prospects. In ancient times, Ba Zuo is representative of Imperial Examination success therefore if you are in the midst of academic pursuits, you will find wonderful gains to your hard work. You will also find yourself becoming more visible to others as this star increases your fame and status too.
- Hong Luan 红鸾 Red Phoenix Star improves your communication skills and ensures you leave a sparkling impression with whomever you approach this year. The star also further increases positive Nobleman Luck prospects.
- Tao Hua 桃花 Peach Blossom Star bestows charisma and energy to your personality, which in turn attract the right people into your circle and help further your career prospects all the more.

RELATIONSHIPS

Tao Hua 桃花 Peach Blossom Star give you that added “oomph” to your confidence and outlook this year, making you irresistibly attractive to those whom you meet (so don't be surprised to find people going crazy over you this 2023).

Tao Hua also enhances communication skills therefore if you're seeking to match with a good partner this year, you are in the best hands this 2023. Activate the luck of the Peach Blossom all the more with fresh flowers at the Central location of your home.

You may feel inclined to let your eyes stray to other people, however, if you are already romantically attached. This is due to the overtly strong luck of the Peach Blossom coming your way, so prioritise your love partner, build trust and avoid seeking excitement elsewhere because the end-game is heartache for all parties involved.

Read more detailed information as per below:

- Though your Love Luck is incredibly strong this year, don't let your guard down because Xian Chi 咸池 Salty Pool Star in your chart negatively impacts your prospects. But, as long as you ignore vicious gossip, practice patience with your beloved and (on the more practical end) to remember to always spend your hard-earned cash prudently, all will be well.
- Hong Luan 红鸾 Red Phoenix Star is a wonderful star for joy in unions. You will find the year full of laughter and happy memories and thanks to this star, the single Rat who is seeking love will find success this year. To activate this star's potential, socialise more and as mentioned before, fresh flowers steeped in water placed at the central palace of your home will do wonders, too.

- Tian De 天德 Heavenly Virtue Star in your chart sees wedding bells therefore if you are keen to get married, 2023 is a great period to do so. But you may encounter third party issues, so it's best to be wary of others paying too much romantic attention towards you. Instead, be a loving half to your mate and choose to bask in the wonderful Love Luck with your partner instead. If you find yourself travelling for work more often than before, keep your relationship fresh and alive with plenty of good communication so work hard on enjoying your love life as much as your career.
- Jiao Sha 绞煞 Crossing Sha Star brings miscommunication setbacks therefore choose wisely whenever you are confronted with what you think is suspicious behaviour; instead of reacting negatively, ask gentle questions for clarification to become more informed and less emotional. Doing so will eliminate the star's ill intentions towards you.
- Juen She 卷舌 Curled Tongue Star creates unnecessary discord between you and those around you, seeking to destroy relationships through gossips and chatter behind your back. Reduce the effects with a candle (for safety reasons, do not leave lighted candles unattended) or warm lighting in the Southeast area of your home and office.

Gentleness and loving-kindness at all times will ultimately strengthen your general prospects this 2023 as this particular Chinese proverb seems to be true this 2023 - Jia He Wan Shi Xing 家和万事兴 meaning "if the family lives in harmony all affairs will prosper".

HEALTH

The Rat sees fair health prospects this 2023 where there is no indication of any serious health problem ahead. Though this is the case, it pays for the Rat person to always be vigilant as you may be in for some minor issues that area related to the liver and stomach. So, Rat, abstain from "living large" in terms of food and drink; enjoy moderately as always and take good care to maintain proper sleeping hours too. Also, avoid visiting locations that seem "off" to you because the bad Qi in these areas may lead to accidents and other unwanted outcomes to yourself.

GENERAL

The year 2023 is a good time for the Ox to “stop and smell the roses” while enjoying a more leisurely path in life. Capitalise on the year’s relaxing energy by pursuing personal activities and maintaining a sunny outlook.

You will notice a slowing down of your career prospects because there is a lack of wealth-supporting stars this year. Slowing down, however, does not mean that you should give up. Instead, be shrewd and think of the matter as playing the “long game” which means to focus instead on creating a stronger future. So, Ox, put your short-term ambitions aside for now to map out your “battle strategy” planning.

In the work front, avoid any potential setback by going through your work carefully and repeatedly; this is to avoid any possible silly mistakes that may come with scary setbacks. Also, be on your toes during any decision-making processes and keep informed of all options before you choose a decision. This is not the year for the Ox to “shoot from the hip” and follow gut instincts; neither is it the time for you to trust the opinions on others without concrete evidence. Reserve all judgement until you are very, very sure.

If you experience challenges, keep a confident smile on your face and know that though this year isn’t yours for the taking, it’s a period to step back for meticulous planning to secure greatness in the years to come. Keep Calm and Carry On, Ox.

WEALTH

The negative force of Yue Sha Star is in your path, causing some possible havoc in your wealth prospects. Be smart and avoid any mishaps by keeping fully informed of your finances because losses are possible due to trusting others too much. It's a good idea to also be very wary of conducting any speculative financials for the time being unless you have done your homework thoroughly and know all the ins and outs before you proceed. If not, it's best to stay away because your wealth will be more secure this way.

Regarding on the "extras" that you can do to foster Wealth prospects, be authentic and genuine when you are required to work closely with others, especially with women. Honesty is the best policy for the Ox this year so avoid trickery for the time being because the outcome will not bode well for you.

CAREER

Yue Sha 月煞 Monthly Sha Star may cause the women in your workplace to spread baseless gossip about you in order to destroy you. This sounds worrying, but is easily remedied by staying away from useless chatter while communicating all ideas clearly. Be kind and practice plenty of tact when dealing with others, even if it is the same person whom you suspect is trying to bring you down. As you rise above the pettiness, Ox, your luck will rise too.

Gua Su 寡宿 Solitary Star creates disharmony in the home front that may cause issues in your career therefore be good to your partner and family and spend quality time with them to prioritise on their needs this year. This fosters harmonious energy for both your personal and professional life. Gua Su may also make you feel lonely at times so reach out to trusted individuals in your life whenever you are in need of some loving support.

Bao Wei 豹尾 Leopard Tail Star is an obstacle-bringer, causing you to lose interest in your important work and become involved in silly distractions instead. Keep your "eyes on the prize" and if you feel your attention skills slipping away; re-direct your energy back to your work. You are able to suppress Bao Wei with focus and determination.

RELATIONSHIPS

Gua Su 寡宿 Solitary Star oftentimes potentially wreaks discord and argumentative energies between couples and family members; even the most loving relationships can be affected by this forceful star. Do not let Gua Su win, Ox, and you can do so by avoiding from entering any war of words. Practise good communication and loving gestures even as your patience is tested to the very limits. You will be surprised at how calm you can be even while your partner is engaging pretty negatively towards you.

Gua Su may also cause one to feel lonely, so if the Ox feels desolate at times this year it can be easily quelled by reaching out to loved ones; or be in happy company through social settings and you will feel much better while you suppress Gua Su.

Nian Fu 年苻 Year Charm Star and Wu Gui 五鬼 Five Ghosts Star may cause people to speak negatively about you behind your back and in serious cases it can lead to a loss of your finances. Avoid this from occurring by avoiding from gossiping back and take the high road by paying these people no mind.

HEALTH

Tian Gou 天狗 Heavenly Dog Star is in residence in the Ox's chart this year signifying illnesses caused by over-indulging in certain vices so it's a good time for you to quit bad habits that you may possess, such as smoking and drinking alcohol excessively. There's also a chance for accidents therefore be super-careful of yourself and especially so when you're travelling. Seek medical attention if you're unsure of any lingering ailments too. Any health setbacks can be effectively minimised when you take these steps outlined for you.

Aside from this, take plenty of resting time this year and enjoy leisurely pursuits. Keep a Zen-like calmness about you as well because this goes far in strengthening your wealth, career and not to mention love prospects.

Pi Tou 披头 Drape Head Star and Diao Ke 吊客 Mourning Guest Star sees possible illnesses for senior family members, but these stars' negative forces are easily suppressed by spending quality time with your loved ones, especially the older folks, and do keep informed of their health status to be on the safe side.

Quell the effects of Pi Tou further by partaking in happy celebrations and parties as well as recreative fun. As well, avoid from visiting sick people or attending funerals.

GENERAL

This year, you will have to do without the support of auspicious luck-activating stars but fret not; the prudent and forward-thinking Tiger will actually do amazingly well in 2023, even without positive-enforcing stars, with a little bit of patience and calmness as well as lots of work productivity.

Go low profile this year. Be modest and do not attract any kind of attention by showing off your wealth. Instead, take 2023 to shore up your rainy-day fund or nest egg. The same goes to your career too, Tiger. Bear all possible setbacks with sweetness and light because a calm persona transforms all challenges into very good outcomes.

Habit and routine will benefit the hard-working Tiger this year therefore maintain your daily to-dos diligently and try not stray away from schedule. As well, be in the happy company of friends and family to see good wealth and luck prospects come your way.

WEALTH

Bing Fu 病符 Sickness Sha and Wang Shen 亡神 Death God Star are two negative forces out to create havoc and disaster for the Tiger's wealth prospects this year but do not worry too much about these stars because their bad Qi can be easily quelled by becoming more details-oriented; meaning, pay attention to the finer details of your work output and also apply the same diligence into all matters that relate to your personal life too. Keeping immaculate of the small details in your life is not hard to do and will go far in strengthening your wealth-activating potential.

CAREER

Work hard to achieve all your goals this year, Tiger. Keep your chin up and lean on your strength, which is fearless-bravery, if you encounter any setback. Be positive and cheerful by knowing that all will be well as long as the smart Tiger take proactive action at all times.

Mo Yue 陌越 Surpassing Path Star in your chart influences the Tiger negatively in terms of creating a feeling of lonesomeness. This star makes you feel as if you need to carry your burdens alone and as a result you may tend to become secretive and hide big problems from loved ones. Going deeper into the meaning of Mo Yue, it directly translates to “lack of resources when adapting to outside influences” so whenever you feel low spend time in the loving embrace of trustworthy people such as close friends and family. Open up to these folks and you will see a lifting of your worries; better yet, solutions to any setbacks will also reveal themselves easily to you.

Mo Yue may not be an especially beneficial star but on a positive note, it provides the status-conscious Tiger ease in climbing up the social ladder. Though you may encounter some challenges while you work towards securing a good reputation in loftier circles, suppress any setback with a healthy work-life balance; meaning, work hard and “rest” hard, Tiger. Keep good sleeping or resting hours regularly to maintain calm and cheerful productivity at work.

RELATIONSHIPS

Mo Yue Star causes disruption to the Tiger’s love life but its negative forces can be easily controlled by practising loving-kindness to your partner or potential interest, and asking them to do the same towards you. Do not allow controlling and jealous behaviour – hallmarks of Mo Yue – to overtake your rationale. Instead, be romantic and shower your long-term mate or new date with simple, meaningful gestures to effectively “warm” up your love prospects and squash Mo Yue’s bad Qi.

HEALTH

Tiger, your health prospects are fair with no serious setbacks to be mindful of, though there are some minor habits to practise in your effort towards safeguarding your physical and mental wellbeing, such as planning a healthier diet and to be vigilant during travel. For further details on how to enjoy a robust year and quell negative forces, read on.

Bing Fu 病符 Sickness Sha in the Tiger’s chart potentially causes issues related to the gallbladder, liver, feet or legs and furthermore, senior Tigers may be more inclined towards these possible health issues. Suppress the forces of Bing Fu by undergoing a full medical check-up and visit the doctor if you notice anything amiss regarding your body. Tigers should foster good health-related practices such as a nutritional diet and good exercise this year. It is highly advised for you to avoid over-indulging in highly spiced food and fatty meats. Slow down when you feel tired and don't push yourself because if you over-exert, accidents are prone to occur; this is especially so during travelling. The negative forces of Bing Fu can also be halted further by maintaining a sunny, positive life outlook.

Wang Shen 亡神 Death God Star is reckless in nature and causes you to be over-impulsive at times, leading to anxiety or falling ill as a result. The intelligent Tiger will do well to be thoughtful in all actions and to slow down immediately whenever you feel that you are rushed too quickly into anything. Take plenty of rest and enjoy relaxing activities to further stamp down the bad Qi or Wang Shen. On a more practical note, Tigers may be more inclined to lose personal valuables such as wallets, phones and keys so don't be too carefree whenever you are away from home and watch out for suspicious people around you.

Sui Jia 岁驾 Duke's Carriage Star creates a lot of attention towards you. Are you a seeker of fame or do you prefer to not be so visible? If you adore the limelight, this is the year you bathe in the glow of people's eyes on you; if you are more introverted in nature, keep a lower profile this year.

Tai Sha 太煞 Calamity Star relates to possible legal setbacks related to your job, but thankfully this is easily remedied by being authentic and genuine in all your work-related proceedings; meaning, don't try to be who you aren't as this will lead to legal issues coming your way. Keep relaxed, open and just be you.

Fei Lian 蜚廉/飞廉 Flying Blade Star relates to people around you who wish to do you harm in terms of your career prospects. Suppress the energies of Fei Lian by avoiding anyone whom you feel is troublesome, and push on with your work. Avoid speculative investments and use trustworthy methods instead to up your career this year.

RELATIONSHIPS

Three stars in your chart which are Jian Feng 剑锋 Sword Star, Fu Shi 伏尸/屍 Corpse/Sloth Star and Tian Ku 天哭 Sky Crying Star create havoc in your relationship luck this year, Rabbit, but these negative Qi can be avoided by fostering love, understanding and sweetness in your love life this year through good communication. Women will be most affected by these stars, therefore be aware of flaring emotions and disruptive anger. Control your impulse to "burst", be patient and your relationship luck will strengthen and prosper.

Tian Ku 天哭 Sky Crying Star creates a feeling of loneliness in you but in reality, you are a well-loved person with plenty of people in your life. Subdue the negative forces of Tian Ku by reaching out to those whom you trust when you are in moments of need.

Fei Lian 飞廉 Flying Blade Star, Jian Feng 剑峰 Sword Star and Fu Shi 伏屍 Corpse Star may bring about accidents so be careful when you're handling sharp objects such as knives and don't be careless when you are travelling short- or long-distance. Do consider donating blood as a way to "counter" any accidents and furthermore make sure you get plenty of rest and relaxation to balance your hectic work schedule.

This incredibly powerful star brings fantastic luck your way and you will see an elevation of your status as well as promotions, increments, an expansion of your business, positive career changes and more.

Make full use of this auspicious period ahead to work hard and don't forget to play hard, too, Balance is key for the Monkey to be not only financially secure but also emotionally fulfilled, so do not forget to enjoy yourself during moments of rest and seek relaxing activities such as meditation.

WEALTH

Monkey, though you are in for some awesome fortunes in money matters this year, now is not the time to be a show-off. Due to Jie Sha 劫煞 Robbery Sha Star in your chart, you will do well to preserve your amazing wealth luck by maintaining a low profile and be a humble, modest person. Practice serious moderation and thoughtfulness in your spending and avoid loaning your money to loved ones because you will lose big.

Suppress the bad forces of Jie Sha further by never letting your guard down and most importantly avoid situations where you may find yourself vulnerable to theft and robbery, such as walking in a lonely street in the dead of the night. As well, invest in a good anti-theft system for your home and office.

Be careful of your capital chains and if you're seeking to invest or expand your business, 2023 is a wonderful year to do so but only proceed with prudent research and thorough analysis. Don't ever make a hasty, impulsive decision or you will weaken your wealth considerably.

小耗 Lesser Consumer Star may make you prone to getting scammed or you may lose your wealth by spending too much. Avoid suspicious people altogether and remember to not spend without plenty of thought.

CAREER

The ambitious Monkey sees not one, not two, but three amazing stars that will bless your career journey this year, bringing you to greater heights – perhaps, even toward the kind of elevated status that you didn't even dare dream of to begin with. The lucky Monkey will go further by reading the below for further information:

Guo Yin 國印 is a star related to power and elevation. If you have been working hard to expand to loftier, more authoritative circles, this star ensures that you will succeed. As well, you are in for some fantastic luck related to career advancement.

Yue De 月德 Star sees you enjoying the assistance from the nobility set, pushing you up the social ladder and bringing great luck your way. A potential promotion and salary increment are also likely for you this year.

Tian Jie 天解 is a highly auspicious force and same as the previous stars, it will bring respectable people of immense influence into your midst. These said individuals will assist your career advancement to a very high degree so if you come across such people, take advantage of the situation and get close to them. Tian Jie will also turn bad luck into good so if you find yourself in some kind of scrape, don't stress overmuch as it will resolve itself. This is also a star of positive change so if you've been wanting to switch careers or start a new business venture, this is your year to do so.

RELATIONSHIPS

Jie Sha 劫煞 is called a Robbery Star for good reason – it “steals” joy from your life and this may prove especially the case come relationship matters. Single Monkeys may want to give this year a skip regarding finding suitable partners because the union may be a little unstable. But, if you are very keen to proceed in dating, you can do so but just be mindful of flaring hot tempers and irrational fears that may cloud your judgment. Maintain a calm outlook and be patient with your love interest and things will go much better.

The same can be said for the already attached Monkeys, too. 2023 sees some rocky moments related to intense jealousies and even third parties but fear not because all you need to do to quell Jie Sha is to maintain a Zen-like calm especially when your patience is severely tested. Also, always practise the benefit of the doubt with your beloved and you will do great in suppressing Jie Sha's mean-spirited tendencies.

Going deeper regarding the Monkey's relationship with close friends and associates, 2023 is not the year for speculative investments with said people. Do not be swayed into entering a monetary transaction whatsoever as Jie Sha's force is so strong that it's unlikely you see any returns; in fact, you may lose a big amount of cash instead. Not to mention the bad outcome may result in permanently severed relationships at worse. So put on a polite smile and firmly say “No” for this year.

HEALTH

Monkey, 2023 sees you blessed with all manner of auspicious energies of the lucky stars in your chart for the year, but come health matters you may need to pay a little bit more attention to ensure that you enjoy good health throughout this 12-month period.

Si Fu 死符 star in your chart is an especially vicious force that wishes to cause health setbacks to the otherwise strong Monkey, but this can be remedied so long as you be careful of yourself whenever you leave your home or office – meaning, do not be careless with yourself when you are out and about.

On the emotional front, do pay less attention to the unwanted opinions of others, and just be your relaxed, calm self because over-valuing others' feedback may cause you mental stress where none is necessary.

As well, people who are closest to you may receive unhappy news therefore be prepared to lend a shoulder to cry on for these loved ones in need of emotional support. Be mindful of the feelings of long-term friends or very close family members, too (especially elderly men of your family); fostering harmony and good communication with these individuals will banish the ill-effects of Si Fu.

As for the attached Rooster, try to maintain good communications with your partner, avoid any war of words with each other. Stay committed as well and do not stray, Rooster, because the three negative elements in your chart may not only cause miscommunication issues, there may be the presence of third parties that may harm your relationship further.

HEALTH

Rooster, your health prospects are fair and you will enjoy a wonderful period of good physical strength, a balanced mindset and a Zen-like calm throughout the year which will greatly enhance your overall life prospects.

Though this is the case, you may possibly encounter some health setbacks this year that can be quelled by practising a healthy lifestyle of good nutrition, plenty of exercise and rest. Zai Sha 災/灾煞 Disaster Sha Star may also seek to disrupt your good Health luck with possible accidents related to travel so be careful of yourself whenever you leave home or are driving.

Rooster, safeguard your health prospects effectively by avoiding the West location of your home and office. In fact, you are highly discouraged from making use of the Western area of your residence and working space entirely. Keep the area quiet with minimal activity and postpone any renovation or construction works in the West to next year.

You can further strengthen your health, Rooster, by “curing” the West location with candles (practise safety and keep watch when you light them), a lamp with warm lighting and a saltwater cure which is a glass-based container filled with a solution of one-third sea salt or rock salt, two-thirds water and six coins within.

An Introduction To Flying Stars Feng Shui

Feng Shui is the harnessing of energy forces which surrounds our environment to maximise our potential in life. The term Feng Shui translates to "wind" as well as "water", and these elements are responsible for directing the flow of universal energy, or "Qi", through one's living space. The study of Feng Shui, therefore, taps into these energies in a harmonious way to enhance and improve upon the outcomes of all matters related to our wealth, health, relationship and family prospects.

In the Xuan Kong Flying Stars method of Feng Shui study, it is believed that an important and major energy shift takes place at the beginning of each year (marked by the Lunar new year) and in the ensuing twelve months ahead, the Qi around us will be mostly governed by this change. One's residential or business space is split into nine major grids whereby a certain energy type, disclosed as a "star", resides in each grid.

As an example, a certain location is inhabited by an especially beneficial star, therefore it is recommended to spend lots of time in that space. Conversely, another grid is infested with the negative forces of an undesirable star, hence that area should be cordoned off from any meaningful activity for the rest of the year to avoid mishaps. There are also locations at home and in the office that are governed by stars that may not be very impactful but with the use of recommended cures, the positive attributes are enhanced whereas the bad qualities are suppressed.

Take note of this guide and the tips provided to enhance your life with happiness, financial success and good health throughout the year.

Let's Begin.

A Practical Solution To Enhancing Great Qi and Suppressing Unwanted Energies in Your Home And Working Space

1 White Star (Opportunity and Romance) and 8 White Star (Prosperity)

Wherever the Opportunity and Romance Star as well as the Prosperity Star resides, there will be good opportunities for success in finance and wealth. To activate the wealth luck in these grids, place water features such as an aquarium or a desktop fountain and spend most of your time in these areas.

2 Black Star (Sickness)

The Sickness Star riddles its unfortunate location with health setbacks while damaging your physical and mental wellbeing prospects. Therefore, it is best to avoid or spend the least amount of time in the area where this star resides to safeguard yourself. Moreover, protect your loved ones and co-workers by advising them the same. You can also make use of pendulum clocks, metal wind chimes, metal ornaments and coin tassels to suppress the bad Qi. Brass singing bowls or metal bells may also be used to neutralise its bad energy.

3 Blue Star (Quarrelsome/Conflicts)

As its name suggests, the Quarrelsome Star impacts negative emotions leading to miscommunication, arguments and bursts of anger. Reduce spending time in this star's location as much as possible and suppress the bad energies with metal-based cures such as ornaments and red carpets or lamps.

5 Yellow Star (Misfortune)

The Misfortune Star has a potential to create havoc to a critical degree and hamper productivity and action. Do take note and spend only minimal time in the area where this star resides. You can also further protect yourself and the occupants in your residence and office with cures such as a glass or porcelain container filled with salt water and six coins within, a musical box, metal-based ornaments, a pendulum clock and a wind chime. You may also clear the energies of the Misfortune Star with the use of a brass singing bowl or energy clearing bell.
