Opportunities for innovation, new ventures, and personal progress are plentiful, but this same fiery drive can also trigger impulsiveness, volatility, or accidents if not handled with care.

Global & Economic Climate

Entrepreneurs, reformers, and visionaries are favored, yet there is also a tendency toward speculation, overextension, and financial bubbles. The key to long - term success lies in combining daring vision with disciplined strategy and steady planning.

Social & Environmental Outlook

The fiery temperament of the Horse year fuels outspokenness, reform, and social change. Protests, political realignments, and cultural shifts may arise as people push for new structures. Environmentally, Fire Horse energy may manifest as heatwaves, fires, extreme weather, or sudden accidents. Travel and safety precautions are strongly advised.

Overall Energy of 2026

This will be a year of transformation, creativity, and bold progress - but also one of intensity and unpredictability. The Fire Horse's momentum can open doors to success.

Those who act with courage and clarity, while staying mindful of annual afflictions and Feng Shui influences, will be able to harness the Fire Horse's energy for remarkable achievements. Avoid rash decisions, protect your health, and manage risk carefully - these are the keys to riding the Fire Horse with success.

Your Guide for 2026

For each of us, the Fire Horse brings both excitement and responsibility. Its energy encourages us to take charge of our lives, strengthen our relationships, and make meaningful choices that shape a brighter future. With the guidance of Feng Shui and the wisdom of the annual stars, we can ride this powerful momentum toward abundance, health, and harmony.

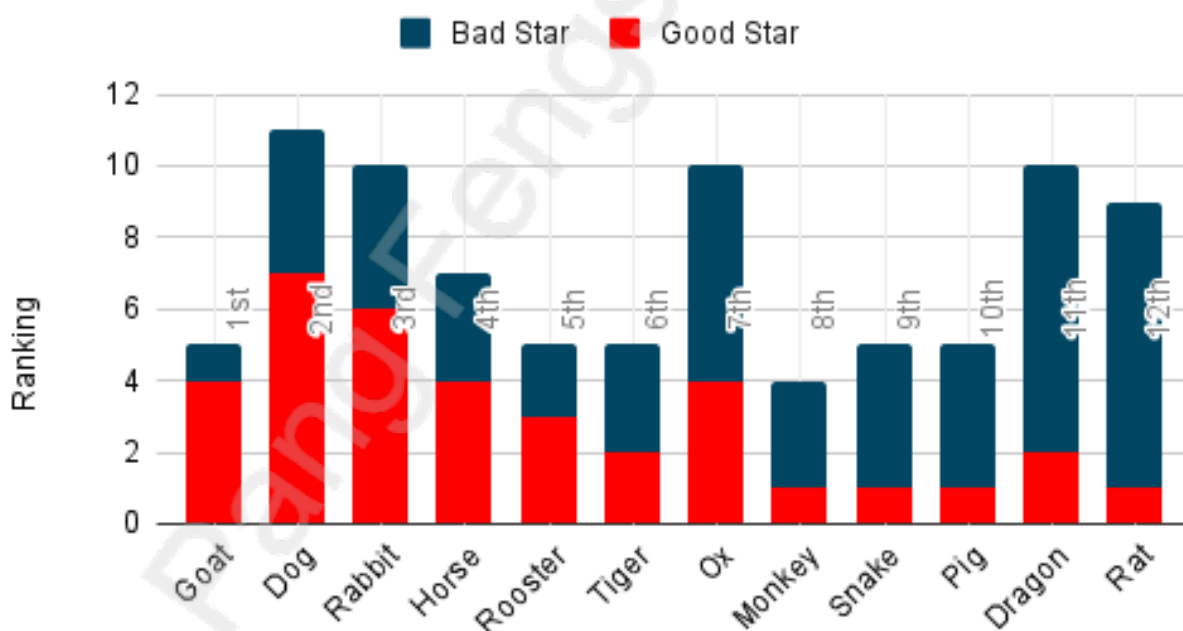

Above all, remember that every challenge carries the seed of opportunity. By staying grounded, nurturing positive energy in our homes and workplaces, and trusting in our heart's desires, we can turn 2026 into a year of joy, growth, and success.

Let's begin!

There are 12 zodiac animals in the Chinese Astrological cycle, and in 2026 - the year of the Fire Horse - the stars align more favorably for some than for others. According to the ranking, Goat, Rabbit, Pig, and Monkey emerge as the top signs blessed with supportive stars and auspicious energies, making it a promising year to pursue new goals and enjoy steady progress. It enjoys the strongest set of auspicious stars and overall supportive energies, making 2026 a year of opportunity, recognition, and smooth progress for Goat - born individuals.

On the other hand, Horse, Rat, Rabbit, and Rooster are in direct or partial conflict with Tai Sui (Grand Duke Jupiter), which may bring extra obstacles or emotional stress. Horse natives, in particular, enter their Ben Ming Nian (本命年) - their own zodiac year - where clashes with Tai Sui can heighten volatility, requiring careful planning and calm responses. Meanwhile, Rats need to be mindful of impulsive choices, as their sign naturally clashes with the Horse. Despite challenges, balance can be found by avoiding hasty decisions, staying adaptable, and seeking supportive alliances - especially with Tiger, or Dog friends, who can provide steady backing throughout the year.

2026 Horoscopes Ranking

Li Chun 立春, The Beginning of Spring - The True Start of the Chinese Astrological Year

Many people assume that the Lunar New Year marks the beginning of the Chinese year, but in classical Chinese metaphysics, Li Chun (立春), the "Beginning of Spring," is the true starting point of the astrological calendar.

In 2026, Li Chun falls on 4 February at 4:02 AM, officially ushering in the Year of the Fire Horse (丙午). This energetic shift takes place well before the Lunar New Year on 17 February 2026. While both dates are celebrated in Chinese culture, they serve very different purposes. Li Chun is the technical start of the year in Feng Shui and Bazi astrology, while the Lunar New Year is more of a cultural and communal celebration.

2026: A Notable "Blind Year" (无春年)

In Chinese metaphysics, the presence of Li Chun within the lunar calendar year is important. However, in 2026, Li Chun falls before the Lunar New Year, which begins on 17 February. The lunar year will therefore not contain a Li Chun, making 2026 a so - called "Blind Year" (无春年).

This term simply means the solar spring marker (Li Chun) does not appear within the Lunar Year's span - from 17 February 2026 to 5 February 2027.

Why Did Ancient Beliefs Regard It as Unfavorable?

In earlier times, Lichun held both symbolic and practical importance. It signaled the start of the planting season, and the weather on that day was often used to predict the outcome of the year's crops. A saying passed down through generations goes:

"If Lichun is warm and sunny, farmers rejoice; if it's windy and gloomy, they fear a poor harvest."

Because Lichun represented the renewal of life and movement, a year without it was thought to be "incomplete" or lacking vitality. As a result, many avoided planning important occasions - such as weddings or launching new businesses - during a Blind Year, out of concern that the energy of the year may not be fully supportive.

A Balanced View Today

In the modern context, we understand that a Blind Year is simply a result of the lunar and solar calendars not aligning - a mathematical coincidence rather than a spiritual warning.

In professional Feng Shui practice, we take into account a wide range of factors - from your home or workspace layout to your personal Bazi chart and the annual Flying Star influences. These carry far more weight in determining a person's luck and outcomes for the year.

While it's valuable to appreciate the cultural significance behind traditional beliefs, it's just as important to focus on how we live, make decisions, and create environments that support our goals. The true power of the year lies in how we manage our Qi and consciously shape our direction - not simply in the calendar itself.

INTRODUCTION

Understanding Chinese Astrology and Ben Ming Nian (your Chinese Astrological sign)

Chinese Astrology follows a 12 - year cycle, with each year carrying the qualities and symbolism of one of the twelve zodiac animals. Every 12 years, you return to your Ben Ming Nian (本命年) - your personal zodiac year. The start of each new zodiac cycle is marked by Li Chun (立春), known as the "Beginning of Spring," which typically falls on February 4th or 5th in the modern Gregorian calendar (阳历). This moment not only ushers in the change of the year but also signals a fresh flow of energy that influences the year ahead.

The Year of the Fire Horse officially begins on 4 February 2026 at 4:02 a.m. and concludes on 4 February 2027 at 9:45 a.m.. This marks the true start of the Fire Horse year in Chinese astrology. It's important to note that this date is not the same as Lunar New Year, which falls on 17 February 2026. Many people mistakenly equate the two, but they are separate occasions. As such, babies born from 4 February 2026 at 4:02 a.m. onwards belong to the Horse zodiac sign.

Is Your Zodiac Year an "Unlucky Year"?

In Chinese culture, a person's Ben Ming Nian (本命年) - their Zodiac Year - is often seen with caution. Tradition suggests that this year may bring challenges because of a clash with Tai Sui (the Grand Duke Jupiter), leading some to believe it brings fluctuations in wealth, health concerns, or relationship strains. Yet, others regard it differently: as a year of transition and opportunity. Whether it becomes difficult or transformative depends greatly on how one approaches it, both in mindset and in action.

Ways to Create a Smoother Year

While challenges may arise, you can tilt the scales in your favor by making conscious choices:

- Practice kindness: Help others, volunteer, or engage in charitable acts.
- Celebrate milestones: Honor life's joyful events such as weddings, birthdays, and anniversaries.

- Plan carefully: Weigh decisions thoughtfully, manage risks, and avoid reckless choices.
- Stay adaptable: Keep an open mind and embrace new perspectives.
- Invest in growth: Work on self - improvement and learning.
- Protect your energy: Avoid negative speech, toxic company, and harmful thoughts.
- Stay uplifted: A positive outlook and even a simple smile can brighten your path.

Wisdom to Carry With You

As a beloved line from Star Wars reminds us: unchecked fear leads to anger, hate, and suffering. Guarding your emotions, words, and thoughts is therefore essential, because they shape the life you experience.

The Chinese proverb 家和万事兴 (Jia He Wan Shi Xing) - "When the family lives in harmony, all affairs prosper" - also holds true. By nurturing close family ties and offering your time and attention, you not only cultivate joy at home but also invite smoother progress in career and wealth. Similarly, in the workplace, being a considerate leader, colleague, or collaborator can draw support and multiply opportunities for success.

Important Note:

Chinese Astrology is an ancient system, practiced for thousands of years, and still valued today for its insights into yearly life patterns. At its heart is the belief that the exact year, month, day, and hour of birth - known as BaZi (the Four Pillars of Destiny) - carry profound influence over one's path and potential.

This forecast provides a general outlook for the Fire Horse Year 2026, based on your birth year. Do keep in mind, though, that people born in the same year do not share identical destinies. For a more precise and personalized reading, you would need a full BaZi chart, generated with your year, month, day, and hour of birth (easily available online or through apps).

- Year Pillar → reflects your social connections and broader environment
- Month Pillar → relates to career, wealth, and key opportunities
- Day Pillar → governs relationships and personal health
- Hour Pillar → reveals your ambitions, goals, and legacy

By examining the zodiac signs present across your Month, Day, and Hour Pillars, you gain a deeper view of your personal fortune in areas such as wealth, career, relationships, and health. And while astrology provides guidance, it's equally important to remember that upbringing, choices, and environmental factors like feng shui play vital roles in shaping life outcomes.

An Introduction To Flying Stars Feng Shui

Welcome to Your 2026 Feng Shui Annual Forecast

Every year brings with it new energy patterns, fresh opportunities, and some potential challenges. The purpose of this forecast is to help you navigate 2026 - the Year of the Fire Horse - with greater clarity, awareness, and positivity using the principles of Flying Stars Feng Shui.

Whether you're seeking to improve your health, career, relationships, or finances, understanding how energy flows through your home and workspace can make a meaningful difference. When we align ourselves with supportive Qi (life force), it becomes easier to attract success, avoid obstacles, and feel balanced in our daily lives.

Why Flying Stars Feng Shui Matters

Flying Stars Feng Shui is one of the most powerful and practical systems in classical Feng Shui. What makes it unique is its ability to account for changes over time. Just like the seasons shift and our lives evolve, so too does the Qi around us.

Instead of treating a space as static, Flying Stars Feng Shui tracks how energy moves yearly, monthly, and even over 20 - year cycles. This allows you to adjust your space dynamically - to support your personal and professional goals at every stage.

While Flying Stars Feng Shui considers long - term cycles, such as the current Period 9 - with Star 9 as the "timely star" governing this 20 - year period, which began on February 4, 2024, at 4:27 PM and will continue until February 4, 2043, at 6:57 AM - it also emphasizes the importance of annual stars, which influence energy on a yearly basis. By harnessing the timely star of a specific period, a home or business can be arranged to attract positive energy for up to 20 years. However, focusing on annual stars allows us to maintain balance and continuously adapt our spaces to current energy patterns.

In 2026, the beginning on Li Chun (立春) - the Start of Spring, falls on 4 February at 4:02 AM - new energy patterns enter our homes and workspaces. These are represented by 9 different 'stars', each carrying a specific type of energy. Some are highly auspicious, promoting abundance and joy. Others may bring challenges such as miscommunications, health issues, or financial setbacks. But the good news is - there's always a remedy.

Through small, thoughtful changes - like shifting how you use your space, or placing certain items strategically - you can tap into beneficial energy while reducing the effects of less favorable stars. You don't need to spend money on expensive artifacts or so - called lucky charms. Feng Shui is not about superstition - it's about making conscious, empowered choices with your environment.

If your main door is located here, you're extra lucky! Keep this area clean, bright, and well - ventilated. Add live plants, water features (like a fountain or aquarium), and warm lighting to activate its energy. A red rug or mat and some sunlight will further strengthen the wealth Qi.

This is a great place for bedrooms, workspaces, or meeting areas. Use it frequently to amplify good fortune throughout the year.

Spending time in the East sector enhances your wealth opportunities. Individuals born under the Rabbit zodiac sign, men between the ages of 30 and 45, and those with a Gua number of 3 will experience the greatest benefits, so it's highly recommended to take full advantage of the Eastern area in your home or office. If your main door is in this sector, you're blessed with double the energy of this auspicious star.

To fully harness the benefits of the 8 White Star, spend as much time as possible in the East.

Adelina's Tips:

- Keep this area tidy, clean, and clutter - free.
- Place a water feature like a fountain or aquarium here.
- Use warm lighting or red mats to energize the space.
- Add live plants and greenery.
- Keep the area well ventilated with fresh air or a fan.

SOUTHEAST – Joy, Recognition, and Harmony (9 Purple Star 九紫)

The Southeast shines brightly in 2026 with the arrival of the 9 Purple Star - known as the Celebration Star. This is a star of future prosperity, joy, recognition, and happy events. Whether you're planning a wedding, expanding your family, or launching new ideas, spending time in the Southeast can give your plans an energetic boost.

The 9 Star is also great for boosting your social visibility and enhancing charisma. It's especially auspicious for women between 30 and 45, those with Gua number 4, or those born in the year of the Dragon or Snake.

Decorate this sector with vibrant red items, fresh flowers, or live plants. Add warm lighting and consider placing water features like a fountain to activate its energy. Keep this space tidy and full of life. If your main door or bedroom is located here - lucky you!

Adelina's Tips:

- Add warm lighting or candles (always supervise when lit).
- Decorate with red - colored items like mats or cushions.
- Include fresh flowers or live plants.
- Place a water feature to boost celebratory energy.
- Maximize time spent here to activate positive Qi.

SOUTH – Misfortune, Accidents & Illnesses (5 Yellow Star 五黄)

In 2026, the 5 Yellow Star - one of the most inauspicious stars - settles in the South. This star is associated with setbacks, illnesses, accidents, and disruptions. To avoid its influence, minimize use of the South area as much as possible.

Do not conduct any renovations, noisy activities, or major events in this space. Avoid facing or sitting with your back toward the South. If this is your bedroom, consider relocating, or use strong cures such as a saltwater cure (sea salt, six coins, and water in a glass jar), metal objects like brass bells or gongs, and a metal Wu Lou (gourd) for health.

Avoid placing candles or fire elements here. Keep it calm, clutter - free, and quiet. If construction is absolutely necessary, consult a Feng Shui expert for auspicious timing, and symbolically begin with three knocks in the East to reduce potential harm.

Individuals born under the sign of the Horse, those with Gua 9, and young women aged between 16 and 30 may experience a slight increase in health - related concerns. These could manifest in issues with the heart, eyes, small intestines, or scalding/burns. If you're based in the South or are worried about potential health effects, consider relocating your sleeping or working areas to avoid these possible challenges.

Additionally, it's wise to take proactive measures such as donating blood for a good cause, attending regular medical check - ups, exercising caution when driving, and being careful when handling sharp objects. Engage in personal growth by enrolling in courses or activities you've always wanted to try, or take part in charitable projects. These self - improvement efforts not only bring fulfillment but also help to mitigate the challenging energy of the 5 Yellow.

Adelina's Tips:

- Avoid sitting facing South or carrying out renovations here.
- Keep the area quiet and clutter - free.
- Use a saltwater cure (glass container with salt, water, and six coins).
- Display metal objects like bells or a brass Hulu.
- Avoid fire elements like candles and lamps.
- Avoid water features in this area.

SOUTHWEST – Loss, Theft, and Emotional Stress (7 Red Star 七赤)

The 7 Red Star makes the Southwest its home in 2026. This star is associated with theft, deceit, financial loss, and accidents. It may also bring emotional turmoil or even betrayal.

Enhance safety in this sector - check locks, upgrade security, and avoid displaying sharp or dangerous items here. Live plants and fresh greenery are great remedies to weaken the negative energy of this metal star. You can also use candles or warm lighting, but never leave flames unattended.

People born under the Goat or Monkey signs, those with Gua 2, and older women should be extra cautious. To protect your energy, avoid heated discussions or sensitive meetings in the Southwest, and use the space with care.

Adelina's Tips:

- Use leafy green plants or flowers to reduce harmful Qi.
- Enhance lighting with warm - toned lamps or safe candles.
- Avoid sharp objects or display items like swords.
- Secure this area with proper locks and home safety.

WEST – Disputes, Legal Issues & Money Loss (3 Jade Star 三碧)

The 3 Jade Star visits the West in 2026, bringing energy that can trigger arguments, legal complications, and emotional stress. It's known for stirring up disagreements among family members, coworkers, or friends - and it may even attract petty theft or gossip.

To manage this, avoid loud or confrontational discussions in this area. Use red décor, such as carpets or cushions, and install warm lighting to neutralize the Wood element of the star. Candles (supervised) can also help. Introducing metal ornaments like bells or copper items can further harmonize this space.

Girls under 15, those born in the year of the Rooster, and Gua 7 individuals may feel this star's effects more strongly. To reduce tension, keep this sector clean, well - lit, and warm - but not too noisy or active.

Adelina's Tips:

- Introduce red items like cushions or floor mats.
- Use warm lighting to harmonize energy.
- Include metal décor like bells or sculptures.
- Avoid heated conversations in this space.

NORTHWEST – Health Risks & Emotional Fatigue (2 Black Star 二黑)

The 2 Black Star settles into the Northwest in 2026, and this energy can bring health challenges - especially for senior men, people with Gua number 6, and those born under the Dog or Pig zodiacs. You may notice more fatigue, aches, or emotional strain if you spend lots of time here.

If this is your bedroom or office space, consider relocating or minimizing time spent here. To ease the effects, place metal cures like a brass Wu Lou (gourd), pewter weights, or a singing bowl. Use the saltwater cure and keep this space calm and clutter - free.

Avoid candles, red colors, or fire elements in the Northwest this year, as they could worsen the energy. Focus on healing, rest, and gentle movement if you must use this area.

Those born under the Dog or Pig zodiac signs, individuals with Gua 6, and senior men are particularly vulnerable to sickness energy. Implementing protective measures is crucial to mitigate its influence and safeguard against misfortune.

Adelina's Tips:

- Place a brass Wu Lou or metal sculptures.
- Use a saltwater cure to neutralize negative energy.
- Avoid candles, red tones, or fire elements.
- Keep the area calm and clutter - free.

CENTER – Opportunities, Relationships & Clarity (1 White Star – 白)

Good news! The 1 White Star graces the Center of your home or office in 2026, radiating gentle and supportive energy. This star brings opportunities, boosts communication, and strengthens romantic and business relationships.

It is known as the 'Opportunity Star' and is linked to growth in love, career, and creativity. If you're launching a new idea, deepening a connection, or seeking smoother interactions, the Center can support you.

To activate this star, place a water feature with a gentle flow in the Center. Avoid aggressive designs or harsh water sounds. Choose dark or white ceramic pots, and skip stone - based décor. Avoid clutter, sharp objects, and excessive noise here. Keep the Center balanced, flowing, and serene to welcome in new blessings.

Adelina's Tips:

- Activate the star with a water feature (with a gentle, soothing sound).
- Avoid stone - based or overly decorative fountains.
- Keep the Center balanced, clutter - free, and peaceful.

Powerful Annual Afflictions to Watch in 2026

Avoid activating these sectors to protect your health, wealth, and harmony

Tai Sui 太歲 – Grand Duke Jupiter

Location in 2026: South (157.5° – 202.5°)

Tai Sui, also known as the Grand Duke Jupiter, occupies the South sector in 2026. This is one of the most sensitive areas of your home or office, and any disruption - such as drilling, ground - breaking, or heavy renovations - can lead to misfortune and instability.

Adelina's Advice:

- Avoid all renovations, drilling, or noisy activities in the South.

- If your bedroom is located in the South, consider relocating to a safer area for the year.
 - If relocation is not possible, do not sit facing the South as this confronts Tai Sui head - on. Instead, sit with your back to the South to receive support from Tai Sui.
 - Keep this area quiet and undisturbed throughout the year.

Sui Po 歲破 – Year Breaker

Location in 2026: North (337.5° – 22.5°)

Sui Po is the direct clash to Tai Sui and is known to bring sudden disruptions and accidents if activated. It is considered one of the harshest afflictions, and extra caution is needed when this energy is present.

Adelina's Advice:

- Avoid renovations or heavy activities in the North at all costs.
 - Keep the area dim and quiet, with minimal use of strong lighting or sound.
 - Keep this area undisturbed - avoid shifting furniture, dragging heavy items, carrying out any structural alterations or performing any wall - breaking activities.

San Sha 三煞 – Three Killings

Location in 2026: North (337.5° – 22.5°)

The San Sha, or Three Killings, represent three types of misfortune: Year Sha (accidents), Robbery Sha (financial loss), and Disaster Sha (unexpected crises). In 2026, these energies are also in the North, making this sector extremely volatile.

Who is Most Affected:

People born under the Tiger, Rabbit, and Dragon zodiac signs are especially sensitive to San Sha.

Adelina's Advice:

- Do not dig, renovate, or disturb the North area - either indoors or outdoors.
- Keep this area calm and undisturbed; avoid loud noise, banging, or moving heavy items.

- Avoid sitting with your back facing North to prevent being “attacked” by these energies.

Wu Huang 五黃 – Five Yellow Misfortune Star

Location in 2026: South (157.5° - 202.5°)

The Five Yellow Star is notorious for bringing accidents, health issues, quarrels, and financial loss. In 2026, this star flies into the South, making it one of the most dangerous sectors.

Adelina's Remedies to Neutralize the 5 Yellow Star:

- Saltwater Cure
Place a glass or porcelain container filled with $\frac{1}{3}$ sea salt or rock salt and $\frac{2}{3}$ water. Add 6 metal coins into the solution. Place it discreetly in the Southwest to help absorb negative Qi.
- Use Metal Element Remedies
Metal weakens Earth (which the 5 Yellow belongs to). Display metal bowls, bells, or brass ornaments in the South to help drain the star's harmful influence.
- No Renovations or Loud Noise
Refrain from any digging, hammering, or construction in the South this year. Disturbing this energy can escalate issues unexpectedly.

IMPORTANT NOTE

These annual afflictions can have serious consequences if activated - especially in key living or working areas. Whether you're planning a renovation or simply want to safeguard your well-being and prosperity in 2026, it's crucial to apply these guidelines mindfully.

For a more precise strategy tailored to your property, consider a personal Feng Shui consultation. Remember: Prevention is always better than cure.

Renovation And Construction Work Tips

For 2026, it is strongly recommended that you AVOID all forms of ground - breaking, renovation, or construction work in the East or Southeast areas of your home. These sectors are particularly sensitive to negative energies this year, and disruptive activities could lead to imbalances and challenges.

If You Must Renovate...

If delaying works is not an option, it's critical to begin on an auspicious date.

Tip: Consult a professional Feng Shui Consultant to select a date that aligns with both the energy of the year and your property's unique chart.

To activate the renovation in a safer manner:

- Begin from a neutral or less afflicted zone, such as the East or Southeast.
- Perform three symbolic knocks with a hammer in the chosen area to start the work ritualistically.
This helps reduce the risk of energetic disruption and acts as a respectful way to signal your intent.

Feng Shui must be applied on both a macro and micro level.

If the affected sectors can't be avoided or you cannot relocate activities:

- Apply your annual Flying Star energy map to key areas like your bedroom or study.
- Make use of supportive sectors by sitting or sleeping in areas with positive stars to receive beneficial Qi.

Reminder on the Forecast Scope:

The above advice is based on general Flying Stars energies for 2026, which begins on 4 February 2026, 4:02 AM, and ends 4 February 2027, 9:45 AM.

A more accurate assessment requires:

- Your home's facing and sitting stars
 - The surrounding external landforms and environment
